Dear Summer Workshop Delegate,

I hope you enjoyed your time at the Millikin Summer Leadership Workshop. Because of all the leadership knowledge I gained there, combined with all of the amazing participants, the experience was one I shall not soon forget. Your contribution made the Millikin Workshop a huge success, and made me very excited for the promise we have from you at this year's State Convention.

I know it has been a while, but try to recollect when I stood in front of all of you and gave a brief breakdown of the Honor Delegate positions I'm in charge of, and their importance. I spoke of two Honor Delegate positions: Service Projects and Hall of Ideas.

Service Project Honor Delegates provide goods or services to the Convention. They provide folders, banners, certificates, and other useful items to help the host school make the Convention run smoothly. This description, and a complete list of services needed are found in the Second Vice-President's Honor Delegate Application packet being sent out in September.

Hall of Ideas Honor Delegates make a display to show a unique activity or service that your council does. The display and handouts are set up for other delegates to get ideas to take back to their own councils. Again, the description of this Honor Delegate Position can be found in the Second-Vice President's Honor Delegate Application packet being sent out soon.

Upon completion of your application, send me an email so I know you applied, in case something unfortunate happens while the application is being sent to me. For Hall of Ideas and Service Project applicants, I will review the applications and make selections based on the best submissions and needs of the IASC. At the November board meeting, I will submit my recommendations for approval. Acceptance and denial letters will be sent out shortly after the November meeting.

Your interest in aiding the IASC through one of these Honor Delegate Positions is greatly appreciated. Please know that I am available to be contacted at any time, and hope to build fun and enthusiastic relationships with all Honor Delegates. Thank you for your support, and I hope to hear from you soon!

Sincerely,

Alex Montesantos
IASC Second Vice-President

ATTENTION ALL STUDENT COUNCILS:

The IASC will be holding a district challenge this year. Everyone will have the opportunity to design a shirt for the IASC State Convention, and your executive board will pick the winner. So start thinking of a truly unique and amazing design that you think represents the IASC, one that all districts will love to wear!
